

"THE FIVE BEST DIVES OF MY LIFE"

Ryby Stonehouse, PADI Course Director,

SOUTH AFRICA 2011

2 oceans; 1,738 miles of coastline; a marine geography that ranges from tropical reef systems to temperate waters; and over six hundred years of recorded maritime history: quite simply you have to dive South Africa to believe it.

Think enthralling diversity set amidst a stunning landscape. From Cape Town you can dive with the curious Cape fur seals; while in Gansbaai just the bars of a cage are between you and a Great white sharks. Whales roll in Hermanus; Raggies gather in Plettenberg Bey and Port Elizabeth. Rays glide in the waters of Sodwana; Tiger shark wait for the brave in Aliwal Shoal; and billions of sardines head each year for Port St Johns.

BUT DON'T WORRY, THERE IS STILL ROOM IN THESE WATERS

THERE WILL BE A TALK ON WHAT SOUTH AFRICA HAS TO OFFER AND THE TRIP WE HAVE PLANNED FOR 2012.... So COME ALONG TO THE SHOP AT 1830 ON THE 2ND FEBRUARY
